As an educator, Beverly is always on the hunt for teachable moments and learning opportunities. When she retired from teaching in 2019, she quickly joined the volunteers at St. Mary's Hospital helping in the Pediatric Unit and the Anna Julia Cooper School working with students in their lower school classrooms. Spending time with children, learning about their lives and understanding their struggles is where Beverly is able to share her talents and her passion for early childhood education. Her warm and cheerful spirit combined with her extensive knowledge of educating and supporting young children puts young people and adults at ease.

When not volunteering and caring for her now almost grown sons, you will find Beverly outside - somewhere, anywhere. She is likely walking her dog through U of R (in rain, sleet, or snow), on the sidelines of a sporting event, or meeting up with friends and family for a meal - outside. As the daughter of two avid gardeners, Malcom and Livy Randolph, Beverly watched her parents spend countless hours caring for their immaculate home on Three Chopt Road. The garden still provides a place of cheerful gatherings and quiet reflection for her mom, three siblings and many nephews and nieces. Beverly and her husband Michael have adopted the same level of care in their home and garden just around the corner from her childhood home. In a recent conversation with Beverly, she indicated that she yearns to become more knowledgeable of native plants so she can make sure she is supporting the pollinators and local wildlife in her west end area.

As an Outreach Committee member at St. Stephen's Church, Beverly is thoughtfully looking for ways to connect her church with our community. St. Stephen's has been her church for most of her life and she takes pride in the work they do supporting those in need.

I believe Beverly would be a wonderful addition to TGC as she would dive in and get to work! She is an organized, hard-working doer! She will gather resources, make a plan and get it done. She is also very social and would enjoy hosting events at her home in a no-fuss, simple, affordable and fun way. She appreciates a guideline and would find our "how to" sections of the green book to be helpful.

Our 2023-24 TGC Theme "Engaged" is exactly what Beverly is looking for in a garden club. She is ready to learn more about all aspects of gardening and is not afraid of taking risks in order to learn more. She welcomes input and advice on how to improve upon her garden and is happy to share her successes and challenges.
